The Constitution of the Faculty Senate
(Revision March 2005)

1. Preamble
In order to take a more effective role in the governance of the University, we the faculty of Central Connecticut State University do establish the Faculty Senate with the following powers and responsibilities.

2. Powers and Responsibilities
   2.1. Within the limits imposed by the Board of Trustees for the Connecticut State University, academic policies of the University are a responsibility of the faculty of the University. The powers of the faculty are delegated to the Faculty Senate, which represents the will of the faculty.

   2.2. The Faculty Senate has decision-making authority in such areas as curriculum matters, degree requirements, scholastic standards, academic freedom, admission policies, and student behavior.

   2.3. The Faculty Senate serves in an advisory capacity in the appointment of administrative officers, budget and planning matters, university organizational structure, promotion and tenure policy, and in other matters affecting the educational quality and mission of the University.

   2.4. The Faculty Senate is the sole legislative body representing the faculty. Therefore, all of the University's Standing Committees shall report directly to the Faculty Senate. Furthermore, each standing committee shall send one copy of all minutes and reports to the Secretary of the Faculty Senate. The Secretary of the Faculty Senate shall forward the minutes and reports to the President of the Faculty Senate, and each Senator shall receive a copy of the minutes and reports or be able to download a copy of the minutes and reports from any Faculty standing committee. Any jurisdictional question arising out of the work of a standing committee shall be decided by the Faculty Senate.

3. Organization
   3.1. Constituency from the Teaching Faculty (represented by AAUP)
      3.1.1 The Faculty Senate shall be composed of one faculty member for every fifteen members, or fraction thereof, elected from each academic department. For the purpose of computing senatorial constituencies all full-time faculty members within a group shall be counted. No department chairperson shall be eligible to vote for, or serve as, senator from their department.

      3.1.2. There shall be three Senators and three alternates who are part-time faculty at CCSU and are not full-time employees at any other institution of higher education. These members will be elected (following procedures adopted by the Senate) in the spring semester of even-numbered years. No more than one Senator and one alternate may come from the same department. The election of part-time faculty Senators shall be conducted by the Senate Elections Committee.

3.1.3. Counselors shall elect one senator for every fifteen faculty members, or fraction thereof, of their number.

3.1.4 The non-teaching, unclassified, full-time library faculty members shall elect one senator for every fifteen faculty members, or a fraction thereof, of their number.

3.1.5 The non-teaching, unclassified, full-time faculty members who are coaches and non-instructional athletic trainers shall elect one senator for every fifteen faculty members, or a fraction thereof, of their number.

3.1.6 The department chairpersons in each of the duly established academic schools of the University shall elect one senator for every fifteen members, or fraction thereof, of their number. This same provision shall extend to any academic school of the University created in the future.

3.2. Constituency from Administrative Faculty
3.2.1 The non-teaching unclassified, full-time faculty members (represented by SUOAF-AFSCME), excluding those named in Sections 3.1 shall elect one Senator for every fifteen members, or fraction thereof, of SUOAF-AFSCME personnel. The President of the University shall certify the number thereof and cause the election to take place.

3.2.2 All of the following administrators shall be non-voting members of the Faculty Senate ex-officio: the President of the University, the Vice President of Academic Affairs, and the academic and graduate Deans or their chosen representatives.

3.3. Each voting district of the University shall elect one permanent alternate for each of its Senators. Elected alternates must meet the same requirements as elected Senators. The permanent alternate is the only one who may substitute for a Senator.

3.4. The President of the University shall be a non-voting member of the Senate.

3.5. Term in Office
3.5.1. The term of office for a Senator shall be two years. Vacancies shall be filled by the elected alternate for the remainder of the unexpired term and a new alternate shall be elected.

3.5.2. A member of the Faculty Senate may be elected for a total of three consecutive terms irrespective of the constituency represented.
3.5.3. In the event of a Senator's election to the Presidency or Vice- Presidency of the Faculty Senate, the senator shall complete the two-year term provided for these offices without regard to the length of time remaining in the Senator's elected term.

3.5.4. The constituency represented by the President of the Faculty Senate shall elect a replacement to complete their regular term of office.

3.5.5. As departments, schools, or administrative offices become eligible for additional representation, the original term shall be for one or two years so as to provide staggered terms.

3.6. The election of Senators shall be held not later than the last school day of the academic year preceding the term during which the Senator is to serve. Additional representatives shall be elected by any constituency as soon as it is entitled to them.

3.7. For the purpose of computing senatorial constituencies all full-time faculty members within a group shall be counted.

3.8. The Faculty Senate shall elect a President from among its members to serve for two years. The President of the Senate shall receive three semester hours of released time per semester for his or her duties.

3.9. The Faculty Senate shall elect a Vice President from among its members to serve for two years. The Vice President of the Senate shall receive one and a half hours of released time per semester for his or her duties.

3.10. The Faculty Senate shall elect a Secretary from among its members annually. The Secretary of the Senate shall receive three hours of released time per semester for his or her duties.

4. Restrictions

4.1. Since the Faculty Senate derives its powers from the faculty, any decisions of that Senate may be reviewed and reversed by a vote of the faculty. If twenty-five or more faculty members so petition, the President of the University upon receipt of such petition shall, within three calendar weeks, call for a Special Session of the faculty to consider the items contained in the petition. The President upon receipt of a petition shall notify the President of the Faculty Senate what matters have been cited in the petition and indicate that all action on these matters shall be suspended pending disposition by the faculty. The Office of the University President shall ascertain the validity of the signatures on any petition so submitted. The final decision on petitioned items shall be made, subsequent to the Special Session, by a majority of those voting in a secret ballot of the entire faculty.
4.2. The agenda and minutes of all Faculty Senate meetings will be communicated to each faculty member, and the minutes of the Faculty Senate will be available in the University Library and on the Faculty Senate website.

4.3. Respective of Collective Bargaining agreements, Senators representing SUOAF-AFSCME shall not be franchised to vote in the election of members of the University-wide Committee on Instructional Faculty Promotion and Tenure.

4.4. The vote of each Senator on roll call votes shall be included in the minutes.

4.5. Each department shall adopt a procedure for the recall of its Senators and submit a copy of these procedures to the Secretary of the Senate.

4.6. An amendment of the Constitution of the Faculty Senate of Central Connecticut State University may be initiated:

   4.6.1. By the Faculty Senate on recommendation of the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws or of an individual senator at any regularly scheduled meeting of the Faculty Senate and subject to consideration at a Special Session of the faculty.

   4.6.2. On recommendation of any Special Session of the faculty.

4.7. The adoption of the final form of a constitutional amendment requires a majority of those voting in a secret ballot of the entire faculty. This secret ballot shall be conducted by the office of the President of the University within 14 calendar days of passage in the Senate.

2.3. The President of the Senate

2.3.1. The President shall report all approved Bills and Resolutions to the President of the University. A ‘Resolution’ is defined as an expression of the sentiment of the Senate which requires no action by the President of the University. A "Bill" requires action by the President of the University. The President of the Senate shall, with the help of the Secretary, keep a running account of these Bills and Resolutions, by their numbers, which shall be published annually in the first minutes of the Senate’s regular sessions. In this record of Bills and Resolutions, the status of each shall be noted.

2.3.3. In emergencies, that is, in the case of a major disruption of the ordinary academic activities of the University, the President of the Senate shall be called upon as an adviser to the President of the University.

2.3.4. On ceremonial occasions, such as graduations and inaugurations, the President of the Senate shall be given a proper and honored place.

2.6.1. The Steering Committee shall consist of the Vice President, The Secretary, and from three to five senators appointed annually by the President of the Senate. The number of Senators appointed shall depend on the constituencies represented by the President of the Senate, the Vice President and the Secretary. The Steering Committee (including the President of the Senate) shall include Senators representing at least one of each of the following constituencies: Arts and Sciences; Business; Education and Professional Studies; Technology; and a combined constituency that includes librarians, coaches and athletic trainers, counselors, part-time faculty and administrative faculty. The agenda, as agreed upon by the Steering committee, shall be sent to all members of the Faculty prior to each meeting.

2.6.2. The Elections Committee shall consist of six Senators elected annually from different areas of the University. Before all elections within the competence of this committee, the floor of the Senate shall be opened for further nominations. Nominations from the floor shall require seconds. In elections to University-wide committees a plurality of at least forty (40) percent of those voting is required for election. In the event that a sufficient number of candidates are not elected, the following runoff procedure shall be used for a first runoff:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number to be elected</th>
<th>Number to be in nomination</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2 leading candidates</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 or more</td>
<td>2 or more than the number of vacancies</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

If subsequent runoffs are required, then only one (1) more than the number of candidates to be elected shall be on the ballot.

2.6.3. The Committee on Committees shall consist of three Senators elected by the Senate annually to review and keep up-to-date the committees of the Senate and the Functions and Responsibilities of Standing Committees of the Faculty. All Standing Committees of the Faculty should be reviewed by the Senate on a three-year cycle beginning in the 1995-96 school year. This review should include one-third of all committees each year. There should be no overlapping or duplication of standing committee responsibilities. The Committee on Committees shall report to the Senate by the end of the spring semester.

Overview of Faculty Standing Committees
This section presents the by-laws (or functions and responsibilities) for the Standing Committees of the Faculty. If a committee wishes to change by-laws, functions and/or responsibilities, it must seek Senate approval—typically the committee would work on suggested changes with the Senate’s Committee on Committees. For the most up to date information regarding these committees, see the Faculty Senate website: http://web.ccsu.edu/facsenate/.

Committee Etiquette
Not all of these committees are explicitly required to report to the Faculty Senate every academic year; however, all are encouraged to do so as a courtesy to their fellow faculty members. Pursuant to article 2.4 in the Faculty Senate Constitution, all of the University’s Standing Committees shall report to the Faculty Senate by sending minutes or reports to the Secretary (who then forwards items to the President and Senators). If no issues are raised in the report, the Senate President can simply ‘receive’ the report and mention it as an announcement during a Senate meeting.

Robert Rules of Order: Motions to Adopt (in Total) are Rare & Motions to Receive are Superfluous
“Reports are received when they are presented. A motion to receive them after the fact is superfluous.” Also: “Sometimes, a report contains recommendations or suggests the need for the group to take some specific action. In those cases, the presiding officer states the question on the motion that arises from the report, not on whether to adopt the recommendations contained in the report, and not on whether to receive, adopt, or accept the report.” [Pages 293-294. “Robert’s Rules for Dummies” by C. Alan Jennings]

Alternatively, the Steering Committee of the Faculty Senate can, at the Faculty Senate President’s behest, place an item on the agenda. In accordance with Faculty Senate by-law 3.2, any proposal, resolution, report, or document must be distributed seven days prior to the meeting if it is on the Senate agenda. Therefore, committees must be mindful not to wait until the end of the academic semester to report. If too many committees report at the last minute, the Senate may not have adequate time to digest and reflect upon actionable items. This in turn leads to proposals that are hastily accepted, rejected, or indefinitely postponed. A committee report that is postponed on the floor of the Senate would need a favorable Senate vote to recommit it back to the Steering Committee, causing further delay or potential dismissal of the committee’s work (Faculty Senate by-laws 3.2).

Committee Member Service--Come Prepared to Do Business on the Agenda
In terms of service, it is advisable to show up to every meeting prepared and informed. Pursuant to section 2.10 in the Faculty Senate by-laws, “Members of standing committees who either have missed three (3) regularly scheduled or generally announced consecutive meetings or who have not notified the committee Chair of their intention to serve by the first of November may, by discretion of the Chair, have forfeited membership for that academic year. In such cases, the committee Chair will notify the electing or appointing body.” It is suggested that newly elected members not only familiarize themselves with the current by-laws of the committee but also seek information on what the committee has done in its recent past.

The rest of this section breaks down the Standing Committees of the Faculty. First, the Function and Responsibilities of all Standing Committees of the Faculty are listed. The Standing Committees of the Faculty are broken down into two groups: those whose members are elected by the Faculty Senate and those whose members are elected by the faculty. It is important to note that the committee elections in the Senate do not restrict nominations in every case only to Senators (except for Standing Committees of the Senate); interested candidates who are not Senators may show up as guests and accept nominations.

The Two Types of Faculty Committees
There are two subdivisions of Standing Committees of the Faculty. There are Standing Committees of the Faculty whose elections are held during Faculty Senate meetings. Those committees are:

- Advisory Committee for CSU Professorship
- Committee on Academic Integrity
- CCSU Foundation Grant Advisory Committee
- Diversity Committee
- Excellence in Teaching Award Committee
- Grade Appeals Committee
- Library Committee
- Student Affairs Committee
- University Athletics Board
- University Planning and Budget Committee (UPBC)

Some committees have a mixed constituency and methods for selecting members

- The Diversity Committee has an open membership to faculty members, staff, and administrators.
- The UPBC is a balance between teaching faculty and administrative faculty/management (but is chaired by teaching faculty).
- The CCSU Foundation Grant Advisory Committee is chaired by an administrative faculty member who is currently not a Senator in the Faculty Senate.

The members of the remaining Standing Committees of the Faculty are elected by a process that involves the entire faculty. These committees are:

- Academic Assessment Committee
- Information Technology Committee
- Mediation Committee
- Sabbatical Leave Committee
Termination Hearing Committee
Promotion and Tenure Committee
CSU Trustees Teaching Award Committee
CSU Trustees Research Award Committee

Other committees are elected by School or Department. These committees are:
Academic Assessment Committee (elected within Schools)
Curriculum Committee (elected by Department)
Graduate Studies Committee (elected by Department)
Functions and Responsibilities for Standing Committees of the Faculty

H. Every Senate Committee of the Faculty shall have a statement of purpose including functions, responsibilities, and by-laws. How members are chosen, their number and length of service—both of a single term and number of consecutive terms—should be stated. It is important, that, if possible, the committee’s meeting times be included in this statement. The maximum length of continuous service on any standing committee for elected members is either (1) three consecutive two-year terms or (2) two consecutive three-year terms. Members on Standing Committees of the Faculty that are elected into office during their last term shall be granted a one-term extension. Committees may include in their by-laws more restrictive service limits, but they may not extend these service limits.

All Standing Committees of the Faculty are to organize themselves by October 15th and are to report names of their elected chairs to the Senate in order that these be published with the minutes of the first Senate meeting of November. The Senate President shall charge a committee member to schedule an organizational meeting. Those committees whose deliberations do not involve confidentiality should also report their meeting times.

K. All Standing Committees of the Faculty Senate and all Standing Committees of the Faculty are to report at least once annually to the Faculty Senate.

L. Formation of new or ad hoc Standing Committees of the Faculty Senate and Standing Committees of the Faculty shall be by the action of the Faculty Senate. At the time of formation, the membership, means of selection, and the specific functions and responsibilities of the new committee must be clearly defined. Upon approval of the Faculty Senate, the name, functions, responsibilities, and by-laws will be posted in the listed descriptions of Standing Committees of the Faculty in the Faculty Handbook. It is the responsibility of the Faculty Senate to keep this document up-to-date.

M. In the following committee descriptions four definitions are assumed:

1. Committee refers only to such a group with membership and responsibilities beyond a single department or school.

2. Instructional/Teaching Faculty are those represented by AAUP; Administrative Faculty are those represented by SUOAF/ AFSCME.

3. Membership implies full-time faculty. However, if a part-time member participates on a committee, then they do so only on their own volition and on a volunteer basis.

Grade Appeals Committee
(Revised on 12/2/02)

The Grade Appeals Committee shall be made up of five instructional faculty members. Human Studies Council
The Human Studies Council (HSC) consists of at least five members appointed by the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs/Dean of Graduate Studies. The Council meets as necessary and reports to the Associate Vice President.

It is the policy of CCSU that research involving human subjects is an important and necessary activity of the University and must be conducted in an ethical manner. The HSC has developed a set of procedures for implementing this policy in accordance with the regulations of the US Department of Health and Human Services, and is responsible for reviewing all such research, whether conducted by faculty, staff or students. The policy is articulated below:

Policy Concerning Human Research
Anyone associated with the University (faculty, staff, students, etc.) doing research using human participants as subjects (regardless of the location of the research) must submit a proposal to the HSC for approval. Researchers not affiliated with the University who are requesting data collection access to University employees, students or databases must also submit a proposal to the HSC for review. All research (including but not limiting to-dissertations, theses, special projects, etc.) involving human subjects must be reviewed and approved (or exempted) prior to any data collection. Certain institutional research also may be exempt. Upon submission of a standard HSC review or an exemption form by the researcher, review status will be determined by the HSC Chair or designee. Failure to obtain approval or exemption prior to the beginning of data collection may lead to a lack of endorsement by the University and may increase legal liability to the researcher and all parties involved.

Please note that if data collection involves accessing any CCSU databases, permission from the CCSU Director of Institutional Research and Assessment is required. Please see www.ccsu.edu/planning/DataCollection.htm for the complete data collection policy. If data collection is related to research involving human subjects, then HSC approval must also be obtained.
If the research proposes to collect individually identifiable health information (Protected Health Information or PHI) from a health care facility or other entity that is covered by the federal health care privacy law known as HIPAA (Health Insurance Portability Law and Accountability Act), then HIPAA-related information must be submitted to the HSC along with the standard HSC proposal. Details are available from the HSC Chair or HSC Administrator.

Further information, approval/exemption forms and meeting dates may be obtained at the HSC website, www.ccsu.edu/humanstudies.
