THE CRIMES OF CHICAGO'S BOOZEDOM

Gangsters Profit as Distillers and Distributors of Death-Dealing Concoctions Are

Enormous—Only 12 Per Cent of Guilty Are So Adjudged

By James O'Donnell Bennett

The Hartford Courant (1923-present); Apr 7, 1929; ProQuest Historical Newspapers Hartford Courant (1764 - 1984) pg. E5

The head line is: "The Elixir of Death: How the Bandits Are Making the 20th Century speakeasy in Chicago the great Babylon."

Stiffeners of Death.

The leading article is: "The Elixir of Death: How the Bandits Are Making the 20th Century speakeasy in Chicago the great Babylon."

"THE CRIMES OF CHICAGO'S BOOZEDOM"

This is the eighth chapter in the series of Chicago's profane, in title and in its history.

By James O'Donnell Bennett

Bennett's subtitle is: "The Elixir of Death: How the Bandits Are Making the 20th Century speakeasy in Chicago the great Babylon."